

CONTENTS

Volume 40 (New series) 2023

Inside front cover: Guidance for contributors; inside rear cover: publications for sale

- 1-6 Obituary, Graham Smith 1948 – 2022
- 7-34 A geological field guide to Harwich and Dovercourt, Essex Bill George
- 35-40 Carboniferous limestone and chert corals in Essex Roger A Hewitt
- WILDLIFE REVIEW OF THE YEAR
- 41-69 Essex Ornithological Summary 2022 HOWARD VAUGHAN
- 70-72 Recent records of 'Ermine' Stoats Mustela erminea Linn., 1758 on Wallasea Island John Dobson
- 73-74 A recent record of the Common Dolphin Delphinus delphis Linn., 1758 in Essex John Dobson
- 74-77 Bats in Essex in 2022 John Dobson
- 78-80 The first modern record of Alder Leaf Beetle Agelastica alni (Coleoptera, Chrysomelidae) in Essex Dr Chris Gibson
- 81-82 6-Spotted Pot Beetle Cryptocephalus sexpunctatus (Linnaeus 1758) from Grays, South Essex Yvonne Couch
- 82-83 Phytomyza anemones Hering, 1925 (Diptera: Agromyzidae) new to Essex Simon Wood
- 84 The fly Stilpon sublunatus Collin, 1961 (Diptera: Hybotidae) new to Essex Adrian Knowles
- 85-86 Cylindromyia bicolor (Olivier, 1812) (Diptera: Tachinidae) new to Essex and Britain Phil Collins
- 86-87 First Record of Vernal Shieldbug Peribalus strictus (Fabricius, 1803) in Essex Yvonne Couch
- 88-92 Observations on scarce carder bumblebees in Essex, 2023 Ted Benton, John Dobson, Sean Nixon & Bob Seago
- 93-97 Synanthedon flaviventris (Staudiner, 1883) new to Essex Richard Gibson
- 98-100 A record of Stigmella minusculella Herrich-Schäffer 1855 in Stones Green, North Essex J.H. Symonds & E. O'Hanlon
- 101-139 Essex moth highlights 2022 Dougal Urquhart
- CONSERVATION & MANAGEMENT
- 140-148 James Bryce and Spartina Peter Wynn
- 149-153 Discovery of a Ponto-Caspian mysid shrimp Hemimysis anomala in south-east England: Potential for bird mediated dispersal? Christopher Andrews, Kim Wallis & Tom C Cameron
- 154-168 Comparing the dimensions and growth characteristics of cockles from two different locations Tony Thorn
- 169-178 Evaluating White-letter Hairstreak Satyrrium w-album numbers against an established baseline at Hadleigh Park 2017 Stuart Connop & Caroline Nash
- STATUS, DISTRIBUTION and IDENTIFICATION
- 179-182 The status of Meadow Saxifrage Saxifraga granulata in north-east Essex churchyards Tim Gardiner
- 183-194 Initial analysis of invertebrate habitat detection and quantification from digital surface model, multispectral and thermal drone imagery at Willow Park, Langdon Charlotte McLachlan
- TRANSACTIONS
- 195-198 Annual Report of Council for 2022-23
- 199 Income and Expenditure Account Year ended for 2022
- 200 Balance sheet as at 31 December 2022
- 201-202 Independent examiner's report to the Council of Essex Field Club
- 203-220 Essex Field Club, Annual Exhibition and Social 2022 Compiled by Bill George

Front cover. Acid grassland at Middlewick Ranges, a Local Wildlife Site where field meetings have recorded over 1,000 invertebrate species in the previous two years with at least seven Species Assemblages Types in favourable SSSI condition, yet astonishingly still included on the Colchester Borough Council Local Plan for housing.

Photograph © Peter Harvey

Registered charity, number 1113963

£15 (free on publication to members)